Many Hands Make Work Light...

June 2nd marks the last of our General Membership Meetings as we break for the summer months. Throughout the 2007-08 year your Civic Association's Board members have served as the community's voice - we have weighed in on important local issues with letters and comments, sent our representatives to countless public hearings and meetings, and maintained an ongoing dialog with all our elected officials. Remember - these community volunteers have worked countless hours for you! Because of their leadership, vigilance and efforts, the Three Villages remains a very special place!

Fun Fundraiser

The Greening of 25A is an important part of the Three Village Beautification Project. This is a local effort to have a paid, professional crew maintain the Route 25A corridor in the Three Villages. To secure funds for past and future litter removal, grass trimming and sidewalk sweeping, The Greening of 25A's Kara Hahn and Pat Hildebrand, along with Scott Sanders of Shea and Sanders Real Estate, recently hosted a very special evening. On Friday, April 11th, the "green team" held a fundraiser at the Neighborhood House. This event was distinguished by great food and drink - for a great cause! And if you missed it - plans are underway to hold other fundraisers this summer and in December- Join Us!!

Brookhaven 2030

The creation of a new Master Plan for the Town of Brookhaven is underway. If you ever wanted to influence the land use and zoning of the Town, there is now a unique opportunity for you to get involved. A series of meetings will be held to hear your voice! Your concerns, ideas and vision for the Town's future land use and development will be important to guide the decisions that impact our communities. Meeting dates that had been scheduled for June have been postponed until September. Keep checking the web site for updates www.brookhaven2030.org

On the Beat

The Suffolk County Police Department's Sixth Precinct has started a new program to bring together representatives from various civic organizations to exchange ideas and discuss community concerns. Part of the program's aim is to help the community to alert police of important local issues, and to allow the police to alert the local residents of their observations. Our representative to the police department is Kara Hahn.
